

Book donation

PHOTO PROVIDED

The Down Syndrome Association of the Lowcountry recently donated 14 books each to every public library in Charleston, Berkeley, Dorchester, Colleton, Beaufort and Jasper counties. These books highlight the most current information on down syndrome from infancy through adulthood and covers areas of education, social skills and mental health. This donation was funded through proceeds of the Lowcountry Buddy Walk held annually in October. Representing the Down Syndrome Association of the Lowcountry were Trista Kutcher, Elizabeth Carpenter, Claire Vail, and Edwin Carpenter. In the back is Cynthia Bledsoe, librarian, at the Charleston County Main Branch.
